Indoor Electric Barbecue Grill

Enjoy all kinds of grilled food at any time of the year with this Electric Indoor BBQ Grill. Designed with a water reservoir underneath the grill, this flameless cooker produces much less smoke and odour than a regular grill, and also avoids leaving residue behind. This water reservoir functions as a drip tray, and combined with the chrome plated grill, means cleaning is easy. The grill's temperature can be changed via the dial located on the front, to allow you to precisely adjust the settings and ensure your food is perfectly cooked. A helpful indicator light is also included so you know when the grill is active, and an automatic cut-off is built in to prevent it from overheating. The control panel is cool touch, and the grilling surface measures 36.5cm x 24.5cm, with the total size of the grill being 46 x 39 x 10cm.
